

Company Representative:

My name is Joe Guido and I'd like to speak with you about developing an industrial connection between your company, the Department of Chemical Engineering, and the Engineering Career Center at the University of Illinois at Chicago. Our department has been looking for opportunities to increase our industrial resources on a local, regional, and nationwide scale. We would like to create a few highly publicized programs which would offer positive public relations exposure for your company while building an industrial-academic relationship between the engineers and managers at your company and our students, faculty, and administrators. A few simple examples of potential programs that illustrate the intent of this outreach include:

- Simple information sessions to present an overview of your company to students in the department and offer a chance for them to expand their professional network and pursue internships or other employment opportunities that are offered by your company;
- Your engineers or managers volunteering their time to represent your company by serving on the UIC ChemE Department's Industrial Advisory Board and advising the department in industrial outreach strategies;
- Your engineers or managers volunteering time to actively assist students as an industrial resource by offering their skills as Senior Design mentors;
- Company-sponsored internship agreements with the UIC ChemE Department which regularly awards one or a couple paid internships to top students in the department which have been thoroughly vetted by your company;
- Company offerings to publicly donate equipment which aids in the research and educational needs of the department;
- Company-sponsored undergraduate research opportunities through the department which offers a stipend to encourage a career in industry-related STEM research by investigating a topic that exposes the student to technical R&D issues in industry as well as technology transfer;
- Graduate-level research funding which lays out more specific project expectations and more actively coordinates these specifications with a Principal Investigator in the department.

If you'd like to pursue any of the listed ideas, present potential ideas of your own, or discuss strengthening our affiliation in general please contact me or a University official at the contacts below. Thank you for your time and I look forward to hearing your opinions.

Sincerely,

Joe Guido
